PRIME MINISTER URGED
BY LABORITES TO END
TALK OF "ALLIANCES"

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(P)—The house of commons unanimously gave Foreign Secretary Bevin's foreign policy a vote of confidence tonight.

The vote was 353 to 0 against an amendment by 58 Labor members of parliament urging that the government's policy steer a middle course between the United States and Russia.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee, rising to face a hostile faction of his own party, denied in the house of commons today that Britain was "ganging up" with the United States against Russia.

Labor party rebels in the house had urged Attlee to deny that an Anglo-American alliance, as suggested by Winston Churchill, had come into being and had widened a world split between the United States and Russia.

"No Ties" Urged.

One of the 58 Labor opponents of Foreign Secretary Bevin's policies, R. H. S. Crossman, said Britain must have no exclusive military or economic ties with the U. S. where, he asserted, "foreign affairs are in the hands of powerful, ambitious men" of the LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 18.—(P)—Soviet Russia reopened the battle over United Nations trusteeship today with a demand for immediate discussion of an Indian proposal to take the administration of trust territories out of the hands of individual nations and place it directly under the U. N.

Despite the fact that some delegations contended such action was impossible under the U. N. charter, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai V. Novikov expressed "sympathy" with the proposal and said he felt it should apply to at least some of the nine draft agreements now before the United Nations.

Sub-Committee Meets.

The Indian proposal was offered by Sir Mahatma Singh before a trusteeship committee of the General Assembly during debate of New Zealand's draft agreement on the mandated territory of Western Samoa.

Sir Carl Berendsen of New Zealand promptly declared that the proposal was "completely unacceptable" to his government, but Novikov declared that the measure had "a much wider implication."

The meeting was held at the suggestion of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who had circulated among the members beforehand several proposals for putting restraints on the veto by voluntary agreement.

Those who attended the session for the United States were Secretary of State Byrnes, Senator Connelly, (D-Tenn.) and his departmental Benjamin Cohen, and Charles E. Bohlen, Byrnes' Russian expert and interpreter.

The revolt of the left-wing laborites in the British house of commons against their labor (socialist) government's foreign policy, which is having an airing today, undoubtedly owes some of its impetus to Communist influence but we doubt it makes the state too think that this is a Red rebellion. British Socialism isn't Red. Indeed, the labor party has banned Communism. There are comparatively few Communists in the British Isles, and there are only two in Commons.

However, they're like a handful of yeast. In a beer-vat they cause ferment. In the present instance they are very active, following up the Labor party's cardinal policy of divide-and-rule, that is, causing splits in parties or organizations and then profiting by the division.

The officer declined to give the identity of the reported "invading forces," but explained "they are entrenched along a solid line, the ends of which are tied to the Yugoslavia border."

FULL SCALE MILITARY
OPERATION REPORTED
NEAR YUGOSLAV BORDER

BY JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
SALONIKA, Greece, Nov. 18.—(P)—Greek Royal Airforce Spitfires are supporting ground troops in a "full scale military operation against invading forces" at Archangelos, immediately south of the Yugoslav border, a Third army spokesman said today.

They agreed to give the idea a hearing after a meeting of the Socialist national council yesterday, just a week after the party took heavy losses in the election of the powerful national assembly. The council decided to vote on the question in two weeks.

The election gave the Communists 130 and the Socialists 101 of the assembly's 618 seats. Other leftists might command 63. The Centrist Popular Republican (MRP) movement got 162 and Rightist parties 88. The assembly and the council of the republic, yet to be chosen, will meet Dec. 24 to elect the president.

MORE EXCITEMENT.

There is no dullness where children are striving.

Pride of achievement seems daily arriving.

Wake in the morning, the telephone, ringing,

News of remarkable progress is bringing.

Only turned six, and discarded her tricycle.

Ellen Elizabeth's riding a bicycle.

Only turned six, and the truth, if she knew it,

Ten years had gone before grandpa could do it.

Her Dad was slower, and so was Aunt Janet.

But skill is a mystery. No one can plan it.

Fluck seems to rise, when the lure's so "enticing."

Ellen Elizabeth's riding a bicycle.

Here's an achievement deserving gold medals.

Legs scarcely able to reach to the pedals.

Last time her birthday had only six candles.

Soon she'll be steering her hands off the handles.

Cheer! For who wouldn't be cold as an icicle.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

The present excessive cost of government—federal,

state and local—unless pared toward a pay-as-you-go

basis, will threaten democracy and invite communism,

in the opinion of T. Coleman

Andrews, director of a division of the federal General Accounting Office. As an example of tremendous public debt he cites the Indiana situation, where, he says, the yearly federal,

state and local tax bill is equal to the assessed value of every piece of property of every description in 44 of the 98 counties. He foresees tax reduction as a political issue

for many years.

This is a subject of concern to every citizen. Its complexity is no excuse for the general ignorance that exists about it. Simply cutting taxes is not the answer.

Some taxes should be raised

—such as school levies in many sections. Nor does it do any good to cut certain

government expenditures

and raise others in a departmental transference of program.

Public debt has grown to such astronomical proportions that only experts now understand the figures. The time has come when the public needs to pry this specialized knowledge loose

and begin to study it.

NEWSPAPER SEMINARS

All newspapers will be benefited by the three and four-week seminars being conducted at Columbia University, New York City, under the American Press Institute. Coming from all over the country, about 30 practicing newspaper men and women at each session exchange experiences and

study improvement possibilities in journalism. Only a strong group dares to undertake such self-analysis,

and it becomes stronger thereby.

The press, if it is truly

free, is one of the funda-mentals in a democracy.

This is one of the ideals of the institute. It is to be hoped consideration will be given in these meetings to the charges so often made against American newspapers, that they are on one hand dominated by the paid advertiser, or on the other,

that news reports are stut-

ted by reporter-affiliation

with unions. A free press and good journalism both require that news columns be open to all sides of an issue,

whatever may be the editorial conviction.

If these highway organizations, while planning ambitious programs for the future, would at the same time

back such a simple interstate rule as center lane

white strips, they would be meeting a present-day problem immediately.

PRAYING AND WORKING

A minister who believes

"there is a mysterious force

in prayer that can be directed voluntarily" is travelling about the country trying to get ten million devout American Christians to pray for

UN and peace. His method is to have individuals select a particular delegate to whom

his prayers will be directed.

The idea can do no harm.

It may even help. At least

it's likely to help the individuals who do the praying.

But prayers for peace and for the United Nations will have to be backed up with work on the part of everybody. Christians or not, and of every nationality. There must be work to eradicate tensions between people and nations. Work to substitute

two-sided knowledge for class bias in union-management problems. Work to make it

all right, but what the world needs most in particular is Professors of Good

Will to Men.

Learning in general fields

IMPROVED LINE WAS ABLE TO STOP ELLIS COUNTY CONTINGENT

BENGALS COPPED FIRST CONFERENCE VICTORY OF CURRENT SEASON

BY GROVER HEIMAN

Sun Sports Staff.

Offensive-minded Corsicana rolled in all departments Friday night on Tiger field to make a record six-and-a-half Ennis 26-8 by hard running and clever passing of the backfield and brilliant line play.

Approximately 2,500 fans watched the Tigers score in the second, third, and final periods to mark up the first district win in two years. Ennis counted in the final minutes of the fourth quarter to save being whitewashed.

Sparked by Southpaw Bill Reed, who conducted his aerial circus with the usual sparkle, the Tiger backfield came to life in the running department to roll up heavy yardage with June Clark, Kelly Paul Burkhardt, and Bill Davis romping through gaping holes ripped open by the lightning Tiger line.

No Early Scores.

Ennis played the locals to a standstill in the first period after the Tigers took the ball on the kickoff and Clark ran it back 23 yards to the 29. Clark, playing his best ball game of the year, started his hipper dipped tactics with a 27 yard jaunt. After Burkhardt added 7, the Ennis line held and the ball went over on the Ennis 35 after two plays resulted in losses. Ennis came back to the Tiger 39 as the play was sawed.

Burkhardt hit the center of the line and gained 3 yards down to the 6. Bill Davis tried left guard, but ran into a stone wall. Burkhardt again called on his power over the center and dragged half the Ennis team over the goal line.

Burkhardt used his educated toe to send the ball squarely through the uprights for the extra point.

The second Tiger tally came in the opening minutes of the third period when Bill Davis intercepted Springfield's pass on his own 31 and raced back to the Ennis 43 yard line. Burkhardt hit the center and collected eight yards. Clark added three more to the Ennis 42. On the next play Reed drifted back to midfield and rifled a pass to Dan McLean on the 15, who romped six more yards before the two Ennis backs dropped him on the 9 yard line after a little gain of 32 yards.

Burkhardt's "Dive Out."

Burkhardt hit the center of the line and gained 3 yards down to the 6. Bill Davis tried left guard, but ran into a stone wall. Burkhardt again called on his power over the center and dragged half the Ennis team over the goal line.

Burkhardt used his educated toe to send the ball squarely through the uprights for the extra point.

The third and last score came in the final canto when Topsy Watson leaped high and took the handle of Sublett's pass on his own 40 yard line and was finally bounces out of bounds on the Ennis 34. Burkhardt hit the right side of the line for 5 yards down to the Ennis 29. Reed faded back and nailed Bill Davis in the flat and the slippery halfback raced across the goal after being hit by three Ennis tacklers. Burkhardt's kick was wide.

Ennis Scored.

The Lions came to life and maneuvered a 71 yard drive to pay dirt with two pass plays leading the way. Sublett raced the ball to his own 45 behind good interference; tried a pass that failed, and then lost 5 yards on a fumble, which he recovered.

On the next play Sublett passed to Springfield, crack Lion end, who went high with two Tiger defenders and came down with the ball on the Corsicana 25 yard line. Sublett tried a probe at the center, but was pulled for yard loss. Sublett again hit the airways this time with a pass to Tolar in the left flat and the speedy Ennis tailback was finally dragged under on the Tiger one yard line. L. C. Parks hit the center of the line for the one yard and a tally. Sublett's kick was not good, leaving the score at 20-8.

Both school bands performed on the field during the halftime intermission.

Let Your Physician Treat Impetigo
By W. P. BROWN
Of Johnson's Pharmacy

Impetigo is a skin infection that is quite prevalent in summer, especially among children. It usually appears on the hands, face, or legs, and is characterized by blistering sores that are painful and unsightly.

Only a doctor can diagnose Impetigo, consult him at once, for this highly contagious disease spreads rapidly on the body, as well as to other persons. Never attempt home remedies as they may cause the infection to spread further.

Your doctor will advise medication. Entrust his prescription to a reliable druggist, then follow the directions implicitly for positive results.

CORSICANANS NAMED DELEGATES TO S. W. ZIONIST CONVENTION

Joe Wolens and M. Evans have been selected to serve as delegates to the Navarro Junior College is the southwest region, Zionist Organization of America, which will be held on Sunday and Monday, November 24-25, at the Blackstone hotel in Fort Worth.

These men will be among the many others who are coming in from the various communities of Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas to discuss ways and means of saving the remnant of Jewry alive in Europe and to take action to abrogate the British white paper.

This convention follows the historical 49th annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America, which was held in Atlantic City, N. J., exactly one month prior to this date.

Important political resolutions demanding the removal of British troops from Palestine, the opening of the gates of that land to free Jewish immigration, the release of thousands of Jews illegally interned in prison camps in Palestine, removal of the restrictions on the purchase of land there, profound appreciation to President Truman for his efforts in behalf of the 100,000 Jews in D. P. Camps in Europe, urging the President and the State Department to use full influence of the American Government and take all appropriate measures so that the objectives of American policy with reference to the Jewish refugees and the Palestine problem are swiftly accomplished and so that the free and democratic Jewish Commonwealth be set up in the whole of Palestine, were unanimously approved by the convention.

Other resolutions included the proposal of Julius Livingston, Tulsa, Okla., President of the Southwest Region, that the membership goal be "1,000,000 members by 1950" and that $1,000,000 be raised for the Expansion Fund. This fund finances a program of Public Relations, Education, Youth work, and Immigration.

Besides being a student assistant in the speech department, Nokes is a member of Stephen's Varsity Debate squad and is on the Forum speakers committee.

Nokes, a law student, will be active on the campus until the beginning of the 50th session of the legislature in January.
